Election/Restrictions

This application contains claims directed to the following patentably distinct species:

1. A direct type liquid fuel cell power generator having a first and second flow path plate, wherein the first flow path plate contacts all anode electrodes, and having a flow path in a bent or meandered shape in a planar direction of the flow path plate and penetrates in a thickness direction of the second flow path plate.
2. A direct type liquid fuel cell power generator having a first and second flow path plate, wherein the first flow path plate contacts all anode electrodes, and having a flow path in a bent or meandered shape in a planar direction of the flow path plate and meet conditions relating to the number of electromotive portion units, the concentration of methanol and the temperature of the electromotive portion units.
3. A direct type liquid fuel cell power generator having a first and second flow path plate, wherein the first flow path plate contacts all anode electrodes, and having a flow path in a bent or meandered shape in a planar direction of the flow path plate and having a liquid fuel supply device, oxidizing agent supply device, liquid fuel container, gas-liquid separating mechanism and an electric circuit.
4. A direct type liquid fuel cell power generator having a first, second and third flow path plate, wherein the first to third flow paths are composed of an insulating member and a conductive portion and having a penetrating portion.
5. A direct type liquid fuel cell power generator having an anode, a cathode, a fuel container and a flow path plate, wherein the flow path plate has a flow path which produces flow-back from the fuel container.

Art Unit: 1745

6. A direct type liquid fuel cell power generator having a first, second and third flow path plate, wherein the first to third flow paths are composed of an insulating member and a conductive portion and meet conditions relating to the number of electromotive portion units, the concentration of methanol and the temperature of the electromotive portion units.

7. A direct type liquid fuel cell power generator having a first, second and third flow path plate, wherein the first to third flow paths are composed of an insulating member and a conductive portion and having a liquid fuel supply device, oxidizing agent supply device, liquid fuel container, gas-liquid separating mechanism and an electric circuit.

Inventions 1-7 are directed to related species. The related inventions are distinct if the (1) the inventions as claimed are either not capable of use together or can have a materially different design, mode of operation, function, or effect; (2) the inventions do not overlap in scope, i.e., are mutually exclusive; and (3) the inventions as claimed are not obvious variants. See MPEP § 806.05(j). In the instant case, the inventions as claimed the inventions are not obvious variants. Furthermore, the inventions as claimed do not encompass overlapping subject matter and there is nothing of record to show them to be obvious variants.

Applicant is required under 35 U.S.C. 121 to elect a single disclosed species for prosecution on the merits to which the claims shall be restricted if no generic claim is finally held to be allowable. Currently, no claims are generic.

Applicant is advised that a reply to this requirement must include an identification of the species that is elected consonant with this requirement, and a listing of all claims readable thereon, including any claims subsequently added. An argument that a claim is allowable or that all claims are generic is considered nonresponsive unless accompanied by an election.

Upon the allowance of a generic claim, applicant will be entitled to consideration of claims to additional species which depend from or otherwise require all the limitations of an allowable generic claim as provided by 37 CFR 1.141. If claims are added after the election, applicant must indicate which are readable upon the elected species. MPEP § 809.02(a).
